By raising his hands at the end of worship in today's church, the minister conveys that he is touching the entire assembly as he speaks the word of blessing. Of course, the laying on of hands goes back to a period far earlier than the first few centuries a.d. God ordained the practice when priests and kings were anointed with oil (Ex. 28:41; 1 Sam. 16:1-13).

And of course, the touch of Jesus also was the HEALING TOUCH to so many who came into contact with Him, healing both of body and of mind, of spirit and soul. For there is more to healing than the miraculous restoration of sight or hearing, or the curing of leprosy. For healing touches every part of our lives, both physically and spiritually.

Genuine worship also requires a heart of faith and a disposition of obedience to God. It would be difficult for unbelievers to worship the Lord, because they don't have the Holy Spirit and cannot understand spiritual things (1 Cor. 2:14). Nor does God find worship acceptable from believers who cling unrepentantly to sin .

Heart of Worship - In Touch Ministries

The first step in understanding how to worship is recognizing whom to worship. We worship the Father in spirit and in truth (John 4:23). When we worship in truth, we don't worship empty philosophies that come from the world's way of thinking (Colossians 2:8). Instead, we focus on the message and the truth of Jesus Christ.

We will use the case of Jeremiah above to illustrate what the touch of God means. Jeremiah, in a prophetic vision, said God "put forth His hand, and touched my mouth." He had a spiritual experience, a touch in the spirit. God did not touch him physically with a physical hand. It was a spiritual experience.
